

Letters from Camp

These templates are designed for you to send to campers' families throughout the year. Through email or with an old-fashioned stamp, you can keep in touch, encourage faith formation, and improve your next summer's registrations. Edit the drafts to fit your setting and help campers make the connection between camp, home, church, and life in new ways.

Dear Campers and Families,

We hope your time at camp this summer has helped you recognize God's presence with you, especially in wilderness moments. We pray that the love and community that surrounded you at camp are still felt in your home life. Hopefully, you have found ways to share what you learned with others at home and in your various communities. With a new school year starting, you have surely had opportunities to see God at work, found unity and courage among others, and been able to face new challenges with hope and grace.

We give thanks for you and your family, and will be praying for you while you are away from camp. Camp has a set number of days, yet we know the same God who gathered us in the summer is with us all year long. Our prayer is that you would know what a blessing you have been to us and so many others, and that God would continue to guide you every day.

In Jesus' name,

Dear Campers and Families,

As the weather changes and the holidays come and go, we wanted to reach out and let you know that you are in our prayers. We trust that God's love is helping you navigate these changing days and special events with family, friends, and community.

We also know that such gatherings can feel like a wilderness in some ways. These events often allow others to see the ways we have grown and remind us of what the communities around us expect from us. As you navigate these days, we hope your journey will bring you back to camp this summer.

In Jesus' name,
